

DAY SUMMARIES

in a nut shell

DAY ONE: Friday Pack & Load

Access and park rental truck adjacent to Temple entrance, start early as possible, keep safety and efficiency going. Keep noise down for neighbors. Truck should be loaded with; Altar Stages and Altar curtain bags, Red Stage Thrones, Bagged Gold Chariot Thrones, Small wood Throne for Srila Prabhupada (SP), Vyasasana (Big Chair). Then we place the large Gaura-Nitai figures and float towards the tailgate; all items need to be the lashed, & packed behind front cab, up to the rolling door, place tools and fasteners in, lock the back door when done.

DAY TWO: Saturday Park Set-Up

After Mangal Arotik we journey to Golden Gate Park (GGP) with our Truck payload, careful driving while going through the City, especially on the hills going to the park. Depending arrival time you will be directed by GGP staff on parking and unloading. You will need specific drop-offs for different items. Observe site-map (pg 20) for locations.

Today is constructive time. With our team we'll first unload our Lordships Gaura-Nitai (G&N), with padding at our Assembly site by the Gift Shop tent at the left main entrance, with the Float assembly. Next place all the staging tables at the Temple Tent site, along with the Stage Thrones.

By now we should have some breakfast coming, eat well, it's needed. Depending who's there, we may have some additional manpower and assistance if needed. We never know how many devotees will come to help, all Sri Krishna's mercy, engage volunteers where capable. After dining it's back to work. All Altar Stages set-up, Thrones mounted. Gaura-Nitai Float assembled with figures on board. Working with the Chariot crew, we take the black floor stands (see Pg.12 pic 2B) and assembled Gold Thrones and mount all to their assigned cart, center front floor board.

DAY THREE: Sunday Show Time & Break down

Back to GGP. Re-check our ground work for any loose ends, get the G&N float and self to the Parade start point, assist Pujaris with Deity seating. 11am the Parade is on. Enjoy and do the needful. When the carts get by Big White Greenhouse (arboretum) we need to head right and get to the Festival entrance asap to assist & guard the Deities to the Temple Tent. Once the Deities are in place, we return to the chariots and remove the Chariot thrones & place them at the side Stage tent wall. When done, take a break have Lunch. Then around 4pm get back to the Chariot thrones, break down & re-pack then place bagged Thrones in the truck, After 6pm the Deities are off the Altar, stage breakdown, major pack-out begins, everything back to NJP.
